

Cherisha Soni

Cherisha Soni is a homoeopathic practitioner based in Melbourne, Australia. She has clinical experience of more than 15 years. She has a passion for offering holistic treatment options based on homoeopathic principles and nutritional medicine, which can improve health and balance chronic issues naturally.

Cherisha completed her Bachelor's Degree Homeopathy from Mumbai (India) and moved to Melbourne to pursue postgraduation in 2011. After completing a double Master's Degree in Health Management and Teaching, she started working as a lecturer for one of the leading natural health course providers in Australia.

Her teaching experience includes homoeopathic clinic supervision, online course facilitation and curriculum development. Cherisha is passionate about research, teaching and natural medicine and with a combination of these skills she continues to contribute towards both the fields of teaching and clinical practice.

