

Michael Higginson

Michael has been working as a homoeopath in continuous private practice for 33 years, working in Ocean Grove and Geelong, Victoria, and now largely online though based in Jindivick, Victoria, Australia. He has a genetics and zoology degree from Latrobe University, and a degree in Natural Medicine from the University of Southern Cross, Lismore, New South Wales, and an advanced diploma in Natural Therapies, Southern School, Melbourne, Victoria. He has traveled to India three times - studying with the Institute of Clinical Research in Mumbai (ICR) - in particular with Dr Dilip Dixit, a senior and highly experienced homoeopathic clinician. Dr Dixit ran live in seminars in Melbourne, Perth and Brisbane for nearly 30 years. Michael participated in and helped facilitate many of these seminars. Michael's approach to homoeopathy is deeply informed by the ICR and its dedicated physicians. Michael has a special interest in hay fever establishing an online consulting space for this clinical condition.

Papers presented include:

- 1999: 'Alternatives to HRT (hormone replacement therapy) and managing menopause' at the Asian Homoeopathic Medical League conference in Brisbane
- 2006: 'A Logical Appreciations of Miasms' at the AHA medical conference, followed by a 2-day seminar in Perth for further explanation requested by interested participants
- 2018: paper on Silica at the Faculty of Homeopathy in Liverpool, England
- 2021 webinar and paper on Silica at the AHA conference

