Day 1 — Integrative Practice: Homeopathy, Naturopathy & Chinese Medicine

Day one explores the key dimensions of Chinese medicine and their practical, day-to-day relevance to homeopathic and naturopathic practice. These dimensions will provide:

- A coherent diagnostic framework that aligns directly with our medicines
- A clearer understanding of the nature of disturbance in the vital force, the underlying pattern driving the case

Tongue diagnosis will form the foundation of this work. As homeopaths and naturopaths, we already hold a rich range of indications within our materia medica and repertories; this approach deepens how we recognise and apply them. Teaching will be illustrated through:

- Clinical case presentations
- Tongue photographs
- Evaluation of our own tongues

Day 2 – Minerals, Gemstones & Crystals

Day two focuses on refining mineral and gemstone prescribing, with emphasis on differentiation and clinical application.

Topics include:

- Using principles of crystal structure to guide mineral and gemstone prescriptions
- Differentiating homeopathic mineral compounds, with a focus on Zinc and Arsenic remedies
- Key gemstone medicines for everyday clinic use, including Aragonite and Black Tourmaline

Clinical use will be illustrated through video and paper cases.

About Peter Tumminello:

Peter is a nationally and internationally renowned homeopathic clinician, researcher and teacher of over 35 years, based in Sydney, Australia.

Early in his practice he decided to integrate his passionate interest in gemstones and crystals into homeopathy. To this end he engaged in proving and clinically applying medicines prepared from gemstones over many years.

In 2005 he completed his major publication on the gems, 'Twelve Jewels'. He is also the author of 'Rose Quartz, Garden of the Heart' and more recently 'Psyche and Structure' - a milestone in understanding and prescribing gems, minerals and organic compounds in homeopathy. Peter has now prepared well over 200 medicines sourced from crystals and minerals. He has also become a professional gemmologist in order to ensure the highest quality of gem medicines which he regularly mines in remote locations.

Peter continues to consolidate his work in that marvellous laboratory of life - the homeopathic clinic. He has conducted seminars in the UK, Europe, USA, South Africa, Egypt, New Zealand and Australia.
